

Occupational Health, Employee Assistance Programmes and Eye Care Services

The pandemic has changed all of our lives in so many ways and one of the main areas of concern is the detrimental impact of people's health and wellbeing, particularly on NHS staff. If your organisation needs support with employee physical and mental health and wellbeing, our Occupational Health, Employee Assistance Programmes and Eye Care Services framework is designed to help.

What is included in the framework agreement?

Reflecting the needs and accessibility requirements of the modern and diverse workforce, this framework includes occupational health services such as advice, referrals and treatments, as well as offering innovative and preventative solutions such as psychological screening and health surveillance, for a productive approach to employee health and wellbeing. This agreement is free to access by the NHS and the wider public sector.

How can the agreement help me?

- Enables you to select the services you need to help complement an existing in-house provision either by offering extra capacity or services that are not available in-house
- Lot 4 for occupational health is on a regional basis, meaning you can choose a supplier that is able to provide services locally in a specific region
- Extensive engagement with customer and industry stakeholders during the development of the framework has ensured it reflects the diverse needs of our customers
- Flexibility to allow for circumstances in which customers have bespoke delivery or service requirements that are non-standard but fall within the scope of the framework agreement.

Where can I find out more?

Further information including lots and suppliers is available on the NHS Workforce Alliance website, alternatively you can contact your Customer Relationship Manager.
